Intara.org does not provide a comprehensive list of links to other film-related sites on the Net (as there are many other services out there that already specialise in this); we do maintain a select list of outstanding sites.

» Animation World Network

Animation World Magazine's online resource centre. You want to animate it? Start here.

» AV Media Resources

A well-presented site with product reviews, service directories, tips for independent filmmakers, and a host of other resources for audio-visual industry professionals

<http://www.cinemedi.org/> » CML - Cinematography Mailing List

Aside from running some of the best mailing lists around, the CML site also contains excellent articles on an extremely wide variety of subjects relating to cinematography, including bleach by-pass, cross processing, green screen, Frazier lenses, variable primes, etc. A must.

<http://www.cyberfilmschool.com/> » Desktop Video \(About.com\)

Loads of information for new and seasoned DV filmmakers alike, including buying guides, product reviews, and post-production help.
